Maren and Tom's wedding was held on a warm Saturday afternoon at a church near Maren's family home. They decided to have the reception at the home as well - and the entire family pitched in to turn the yard into a space resembling a picture out of jolly old England. Decorated with English flags and red and white prayer flags, the guests were greeted with a cocktail hour in the back yard and a wonderful jazz band.

The bride, talented as she is, wore a beautiful wedding gown that she made herself. In addition, bride's parents grew potatoes in their back yard that went into the potato salad on the buffet. The halibut was grilled on site, so scents of ginger, soy and the grill filled the air.

The evening was filled with family and tradition, and we thank Maren, Tom and their families for allowing us to be a part of such a special event.
